Where the value sits

Dr. Steven Perry

Former CFO of Visa

"After my time at VISA Europe I wanted to guide a business that could revolutionise payments. CardPay365 is that business and as Chair I am delighted to be involved.

At CardPay365 we are very fortunate to be working with Sales Partners across the UK who support our vision: to challenge, innovate and to disrupt.

We very much look forward to welcoming you as a Sales Partner of CardPay365."
